At Sydney Actors School, our mission is to provide the most personalised, hands-on, practical acting training in the world. Our graduates leave with the skills and techniques to immediately leap into the acting, film and television industry. We offer a Diploma and Advanced Diploma of Screen & Media, and a Diploma of Musical Theatre. Students engage in foundational acting classes and work on a wide range of stage and screen productions. Our Technology Craft class is what makes our course unique. Our students learn to write, direct, crew, and edit their own work. The industry today demands its artists to be multi-faceted, and we want our students to graduate with the skills to create their own work. If you are passionate about acting and musical theatre, then Sydney Actors School is the place for you.

Sydney Film School wants to help students explore how to bring their visions to life. We offer a Diploma in Screen & Media and, in partnership with Excelsia College, a Bachelor of Screen Production. Our practical classes and small class sizes mean that our students get to explore every role on a film set, and work one-on-one with their tutors. Our tutors are all industry-working professionals, who bring to their classes a wealth of knowledge and experience. They teach subjects covering all areas of filmmaking, from screenwriting through to post-production. If you finish the Diploma course and wish to continue studying, you can transfer to the Bachelor course for another two years. The Bachelor course allows you to hone your storytelling skills, and dive into your purpose as a filmmaker. If you are passionate about filmmaking, there is no better place to be than Sydney Film School.
